William Allison, a negro, was a visitor at the detectives' office Tuesday morning. He claimed that his room, at the brewery garden on Alameda avenue, was entered and several razors and shirts were taken. Jose Duran, who said that he was at that place Monday, stated that a suitease containing $46 and some of his clothes, had been taken. The soldiers in that vicinity caught Joe Becker and W. M. Wright, two negroes, and they are being held at the police station in connection with the case. Duran's suitease containing his clothes, was recovered following the arrest of the men, but the $40 is still missing.

AUTO WRECKS POST: SCATTERS THE MAIL

Miss Ailene Berg is the first woman mail carrier on record in El Paso. Her automobile Tuesday morning collided with a mail post at Montana street and Mesa avenue, demolishing a rear wheal of the touring car and seattering the mail over the sidewalk.

Miss Berg promptly picked up the let-ters and carried them down to postmas-ter Smith, thereby proving the first feter Smith, thereby proving the lirst lemale mail carrier on local record. The accident occurred when Miss Berg, who was driving down Montana, made a sharp turn to avoid a runabout which was running at high speed down Mesa.
The other car escaped injury, while Miss Berg's heavier motor crashed into the mail box.
